NATURE & WATER SCHOOL PROGRAM

Open to state schools in Queensland

Mizuiku Nature & Water is a free program for students in Years 4, 5 & 6 with grants up to $1000 available. It is open to all state schools in Queensland.

With guidance from Indigenous leaders and Earthwatch Australia water experts, students:

- Explore local water issues
- Create impactful environmental action projects
- Lead peer-teaching workshops to share their knowledge at a Kids Teaching Kids conference event

Participating schools receive:

- Grants of up to $1000
- Access to comprehensive teaching resources aligned to V9.0 Australian curriculum
- Support from the Earthwatch education team
- Support to showcase student work through events and online platforms

Expressions of Interest from teachers to participate in this nature and water literacy and student empowerment program are now open
